WAQ

Warrior Adventure Quest

WAQ is a Soldier training program, endorsed and funded by the Department of the Army.

It combines Soldier participation in high adventure activities with resilience training in order to teach Soldiers effective ways to cope with stress. WAQ can assist in mitigating the negative impact of high risk behaviors common among Soldiers who may have recently returned from deployments. The high adventure activity is tied to resilience training which enhances unit readiness by building unit cohesion.

WAQ activities are coordinated through Family and MWR Outdoor Recreation (ODR) facilities and staff. All year round activities include Paintball, Bungee Jump, White Water Rafting, ATV, Skiing/ Snowboarding, and more.

For more than 70 years, Troy University has prepared United States servicemen and servicewomen to be leaders in their fields. With more than 100 degree options offered completely online, TROY will help you find your path to success.

Founded in 1887, Troy University is a public, historic, international University with more than 175,000 alumni. Students choose TROY for its quality academic programs, reasonable cost, outstanding faculty and flexible in-class, online and blended class offerings.

TROY's history of service to the military dates back to 1950, when we began offering voluntary education to soldiers at the Army's Camp Rucker. The University continues that tradition of service by delivering undergraduate, graduate and post-graduate degrees through a variety of on-base, near-base and online programs.

In a world that is becoming increasingly interconnected, the ability to interpret and analyze global trends and concepts, as well as understand other cultures, is of greater importance now than ever before. TROY's Master of Science in International Relations (MSIR) equips students with the knowledge and skills to be successful on a global stage.

One of the largest International Relations Graduate Studies Programs in the United States, TROY's MSIR program offers students of diverse backgrounds and undergraduate degrees the opportunity to acquire knowledge and understanding of international political and economic trends and activities that help to shape and define the world in which we live and work.

Offering concentrations in Global Studies, National Security Affairs, and Regional Affairs, the MSIR is a 12-course, 36-credit-hour program that will expose students to a diverse curriculum covering history, regional studies, comparative government, foreign policy studies, political economy, geography, conflict management, international organization and law, and intercultural relations.

Through TROY's MSIR program, students will emerge with the analytical and theoretical skills necessary for understanding and evaluating the impact of global and national issues on world events.

Through extensive course and scholarship offerings, TROY continues its commitment to keeping higher education affordable for those who sacrifice so much.

TROY's Military and Family Scholarships cap the cost of tuition at $250 per credit hour for active-duty U.S. military, National Guard and Reserves, as well as their spouses and dependents. This capped tuition rate matches the amount covered by Military Tuition Assistance, so military members will have no out-of-pocket costs associated with their tuition as they pursue undergraduate or graduate degrees. The scholarship also provides significant savings of up to 50% on tuition costs for spouses and dependents.

As a result of the University's continued commitment to serving the men and women of the United States military, TROY has been recognized by SR Education Group as a "Top Yellow Ribbon" online college. TROY has also ranked in U.S. News & World Report's "Best for Veterans" and Military Times' "Best for Vets" rankings. In addition, the University has been named to The Princeton Review's "Best of the Southeast" rankings for 18 consecutive years and is among the top regional universities and best value universities in the South, according to U.S. News & World Report.

Be part of a family of leaders with more than 175,000 alumni worldwide. It's your time to Lead the Charge at TROY today. Learn more at troy.edu/pacific or by calling DSN 784-8151 (OSAN AB) or DSN 755-3534 (CAMP HUMPHREYS).
